Text of Judge Smith's Decision in the Foster Case.

Pointed Declaration by His Honor

Judge Smith gave a very important decision in the circuit court today in the assault case of the People, &c., for the use of Macon County against ex-Sheriff William W. Foster and his bondsmen, the first claim for money due the county being about $12,000, which with other claims added makes a total of about $20, 000. The decision is on the demurrer of the defendants to the declaration filed by

D. P. Yall, county attorney. The argument on both sides was heard in October.

The judge in his decision holds that the bondsmen are not liable.

After reviewing the authorities cited by the county, and pronouncing them not in point, Judge Smith said:

Among the many cases cited in the very able and elaborate argument of the learned counsel for the county, I have not been able to find a single case proceeding precisely the question raised in this declaration, nor maintaining a like set of facts.

In the absence of authority to the contrary,

I hold that the county is not liable for the bond of a sheriff, and that the county is not liable for the bond of a sheriff, and that the county is not liable for the bond of a sheriff, and that the

county is not liable for the bond of a

sheriff, and that the county is not liable

TO JOHNSON FOR LIFE.

Schwab and Fielden to Leave Chicago to-day.

There is no news to-day of a startling nature from Chicago. The city is quiet and business has been resumed. The bodies of the four men hanged were taken in charge by relatives and friends and will be given the usual interment.

THE LAST ACT

in the fulfillment of the verdict of the jury and decision of Governor Oglesby will be the transfer to-day of Schwab and Fielden to Joliet, where they will remain in the penitentiary for life.

Michael Schwab is a Bavarian, a well-educated man about thirty seven years of age. He is a book-binder by trade.

Landing on these shores in 1879, he had been four years in America when, in 1883, he became associate editor of the Arbeiter

Zeitung. He is a powerful speaker.

In common with the other leaders in the anarchist movement, he is a materialist, denying the existence of a personal God.

He believes constituted authority to be innate to the interests of humanity.

Samuel Fielden's ability as a speaker was acquired in public work as a lay preacher of the English Methodists. He was employed as a youth at a cotton mill in Lancashire, and taught in Sunday school. He was advanced to be a preacher on account of his gift of ready speech and earnestness of character. Fielden came to the United States in 1886. After residing three years in Cleveland he made his home in Chicago, where he worked as a carpenter. Agitation was more congenial work, and as the fluent mouth-piece of Spies he had made a reputation as an anarchist leader when the hand of justice seized him. His age is 40 years.

Base Ball.

Harry Staley, the cunning base ball pitcher, who was the mummy of the Deatur club last season in the city to remain over Sunday. He has signed with the St. Louis Browns for the coming season. Sorry Deatur wanted him.

The Danville people are still trying hard to raise money to put a club in.

The Central Inter State League

The Deatur managers are not inactive.

They are planning for victory and the penalty, and will probably get the pick of skillful players.

Billy G. Beaten

The challenge trotting contest between

S. Montgomery, the Deatur horse, and Billy G., the spitted goat from Illinois, which came off at Springfield Friday afternoon, was attended by about 4000 people. Billy G. was beaten, S. Montgomery winning the heat in 2 3/4, the third and fourth heats in 2 3/4 and 2 3/4.

The second heat was won by Billy G. in 2 3/4.

The driver of the Deatur winner was Mr. Wheeler, and Ismael drove the Illinois horse. The two horses are very closely matched and now honors are even, as Billy G. won the recent race in Deatur. Mr. Robert Montgomery has always contended that his horse could defeat the Illinois wonder, and he has demonstrated that fact by winning the race receipts.
